WEDNESDAY, JUNE 1, 1864.

THE SPANISH INVASION.

The flag of Ferdinand and Isabella is again planted on South American soil, and the descendants of the Cid, of Cortez, and Pizarro, possibly dream of restoring the ancient glories of Spain and winning back that world which Columbus gave to Castille. From the beginning to the middle of the present century Spain was rapidly declining, until the master mind of Napoleon grappled with her infirmities, and in a few years raised her to a level with the great powers of Europe. Trade was quadrupled, a new navy was constructed, and the Saracen Moors bit the dust as the cavaliers of Navarre entered the walls of Tetuan. It was a glorious sight to see Spain rising, like a giant from sleep, to the full height of her natural and traditional greatness. Then came the annexation of Santo Domingo, and with it perhaps the first aspirations for her ancient colonial possession.

But a change supervened, and O'Donnell, the genius of Spanish regeneration, was forced to abandon the helm of State. The most notable act of his successor is his new conspiring our attention, the seizure of the Chincha Islands; and this step will certainly cause more trouble than glory to Spain. Few of our readers are aware of the real motive for this rupture, and it is strange that the envoy Mazarredo does not even mention it in his haughty manifesto. About the beginning of 1863 a number of Spaniards were barbarously murdered in Peru, and the assassins, as often happens in South America, were left unmolested by the authorities, although well known to everybody. There is no doubt that Spain was entitled, and even bound, to demand justice, and the Spanish Government declared its readiness to second the purpose, admitting the culpability of its subjects in making at the murders.

It happened, however, that M. Mazarredo had not diplomatic credentials, but the title of Commissary by which Peru was treated as a Colony, since Spain had not recognised her independence. The pervicious Government naturally rejected such pretensions, and, as we informed, for this puerile title the Spanish admiral felt bound to seize the Chincha Islands.

We have every reason to believe that the court of San Ildefonso, far from censuring Adm. Pinzon's conduct will take active steps to menace Peru with a formidable force. Nor will it be easy for all the S. American republics to assemble sufficient naval armaments to re-capture the islands. Peru meantime has nothing to fear on the mainland as all the sister-states will make common cause with her, and the dream of Spanish re-conquest will be dispelled by the intervention of other powers. The representatives of England and the United States have protested against the forcible proceeding, and although the Great Republic is now almost powerless, the former nation, which (as President Mitre declared at the G. de Mayo) "has ever been the best friend of S. America, will bring about an arrangement, restoring the valuable Guano heaps to Peru.

It is not in the interests of the age that Spain should reconquer these countries which Las Casas accuses her of having so much ill-used. It is not within the range of possibility that she can send out armies to over-run the continent. We are therefore at a loss to comprehend the immense importance which Argentines attach to this aggression. Spain may hold the Chincha islands for a few weeks, but there is not the slightest reason to fear that she will be able to carry out her three of regaining them as she did Fernando Po or Sto Domingo.

THE CHINCHA ISLANDS.

The difficulty between Spain and Peru, and seizure of the Chincha Islands, by Admiral Pinzon, in the name of her Catholic Majesty, have called public attention among American commercial circles to those islets, which as the "Perro Cornil" of Rosario observes, may be considered the chief revenue of Peru.

The Chincha Islands are three in number, without counting six small islets, and lie about 8 miles from the mainland, fronting Pisco, and distant some 150 miles from Lima. They are barren rocks, quite destitute of vegetation, but covered with guano, or the excrement of sea birds, which have left there such immense deposits, that the principal islands are supposed to possess eleven millions tons of guano. The sole inhabitants are 1000 labourers, mostly Chinamen, negroes, or felons, living in huts of bamboo and mud. The overseers are no better housed, and a company of soldiers acts as police. The Peruvian Government has a monopoly for the guano, but it is sold to traders for exportation to various countries, and one is a French firm. Vessels taking guano are chartered before hand by these traders, and when laden, the Government gets an invoice and bill of sale on the terms previously agreed to. The merchant exporting has to pay the laborers and all costs of working and transport to the water's edge.

The export of guano in 1863 amounted to 400,920 tons, of which Great Britain took 282,000, the United States 64,000, Spain 26,500, the Netherlands 18,00, and France 11,000. Since that year the figures have much increased.

With a little diligence, says the "Comercio," the summer's export of 1000 tons might be laden in three days, but at present it usually takes three or four weeks, and sometimes 40 days. When winds are good and cheerage, but are sometimes difficult of approach, the surf being very strong on the three rock-bound shores—[le Progres.]

EDITOR'S CABLE.

M. Gonsalez, the Finance Minister we hear is working some very excellent reforms in his department, amongst others we are glad to see that Mr. Bilbao of the Custom-house is required to send in a monthly statement of the shipping business. During the month of April we gather the following interesting shipping particulars—Vessels cleared during the month, 93; vessels in port on May 4th, 106. This does not include the steamers, but merely sailing vessels; henceforward, however, we are to have reports each month of both sailing vessels and steamers.

The President regarding it essential that a Consul General should reprepresent our interests in Spain, has named Mr. B. B. Gonsalez (no relation of the Minister). We think that now that Spain is beginning to show her teeth against Peru, Mr. Gonsalez should be made Colonel of the new regiment of volunteers. For Palermo (not Rosario quinto) and Naples we have two new Consuls also appointed—for the former Don Salvador Del Pozo, for the latter Don Gaetano Argerini de Gregory.

Since the news from Peru has reached us there is a great watch kept on the Duke of S. Fernandos, some rather apprehensive Portenos think that the next island Spain lays hold of will be Martin Garcia. We understand, however, that his Grace the Duke privately disapproves of this policy.

There is a regular Schleswic Holstein question going on in Cordova. A German apothecary named Heber (on relation to the artist) has established a small shop in Cordova; as a matter of course he did a flourishing business, but the Cordova doctors and quacks carries hauled the poor fellow up for not having a native diploma, although we believe he had certificates from several German universities. Heber refused to obey the summons, and the tribunal was obliged to apply to the Government. The Governor notified the German that he should attend the court or leave the Province. Heber refuses to know anything about the Cordova authorities, and has appealed to the Governor to be a bitter pill to him.

In San Nicolas we hear that there is a regular fight going on between the Municipality and the Juez de Paz. It appears that there is an undying political animosity between the Crudos and Cocidos of that town; the Judge is Crudo, and the Municipality are Cocidos. The consequence is that the latter refuse to obey the order of the former, who is excellent their president. The bank we hear is doing nothing, as all the money it had is lent out, and deposits are rather scarce.

Our colleague the "Tribuna" states that an assassin has left Montevideo to murder Flores, that the price agreed to be paid is four thousand dollars, and that one thousand ounces has been paid on account. Flores is said to be at San Jose, but men are so demoralised, that he states if he misses taking Montevideo now he will return to Buenos Ayres and abandon the scheme.

The latest news from San Juan is to the effect that people have got so tired of mining they are now turning their attention to beet farming, on a limited scale. General San Juanitos have started flocks of merely sheep each, although does this is their conviction that the smaller the flock the greater the crease. A sheep farming society is to be formed for the purpose of fixing the tariffs, &c.

We regret to hear that the liberty of the press is in serious danger in San Juan; the new Governor having notified the editor of the Zonda that the proofs must be sent to him, the Iroic disciple of Guttenberg sent back as answer that his Excellency had better come and take possession of the Printing Office!!!

Major Rickard is getting away, and we believe that very shortly we may expect some pure San Juan silver, which should be presented to M. Riestra for the purpose of beginning his new mint operations.

Our maritime friends will please bear in mind that a new butcher's firm, Pinchon Brothers, has been established in the Paseo Julio. Beef steaks, mutton chops and potatoes supplied on the very shortest notice.

We see that the Sheridan lawsuit is still before the Court, although it is notorious that the case is settled. Doctor Sheridan, we understand, has also left behind a claim over the partition in the Paseo Julio. Beef steaks, mutton chops and potatoes supplied on the very shortest notice.

We cannot understand why the case should still be on the rolls.

The Bank has been authorised to issue in the Parana. The Argentine schooner "Geronima" was lost on the morning of the 6th about 5 leagues above Ensenada. She went down in 4 fathoms of water. The vessel was oil went to her assistance, but it was of no use, as she went down in four fathoms of water.

We hear of a new canal which has been discovered in the Uruguay. The pilots found it by the name of the "Hervidero," and state that it is better and more capacious than the old one. The Governor of the Salto department, his steamer having run aground in the old canal, he was obliged to sound the river elsewhere, and by the greatest good fortune found a new channel between from 12 to 17 feet of water. The pilot's name who was with Captain Fidanza when the soundings were made is Francisco Paz. All the difficulties attending the navigation of the river, when low, have now vanished. Don Sebastian Hotet of Salto, has lost a boat, and seven new buoys put down at the new canal. We understand that the "Iris," in her down trip, came through the new channel.

Our colleague, the 'Nacional' makes another blunder respecting the British war vessel 'Forte,' which it improperly supposes to be a French ship of the line—which has left Montevideo in company with another French ship, the 'Medusa.'

The commercial treaty between this country and Spain has at last been ratified by the Spanish Legislature, and is now in force.—Standard.

Since the capture of the Chincha Islands, news from Old Spain has become rather interesting. Sr. Olozaga, who is the prime mover of all the attempts on America, has gone to Paris on a special mission.

It is rumoured that a Bonapartist party is actively organised in Buenos Ayres. We question very much the truth of this report. It is more likely that if the republican party rise it will not come nearer to us than Montevideo.

Ex-Governor Sarmiento has at last arrived at Valparaiso, and has found his secretaries, M. Laval e, Mitre and Hallcock, where have not he? how these diplomatic young gentlemen must appreciate the Sandwich Islands.

Writing plays has now become the rage through town. Ane Gull has fired the Shakspearian genius of some of our full blown poets, and it is said that shortly will be brought on the boards an Oriental tragedy (Sandy Oriental) from the pen of a literary Anglo-Saxon, who has been cast by fate, no hear, is about to dedicate it to the talented Lucio Mansilla.

On Saturday, Ane Gull will be in a position to give us an answer. We understand that it will be for the author's benefit—we have no doubt the house will be crowded.

A most daring robbery was committed the other night in Calle Temple, No. 231. The robbers entered the house through the back yard, but the noise raised by the dogs of the neighbours came out, and an exciting chase took place, the robbers, however, all escaped.

THE NAVARRO MURDER.

Another barbarous murder has been lately perpetrated in the Partido of Navarro. A Frenchman, named Julian Lacennaeure, who carried on a pulperia business close to Navarro, in the unhappy victim. Up to this hour, we hear the police have not taken any steps towards investigating the matter, but the brother of the murdered Frenchman has left Buenos Ayres, determined to search for the murderers. We should seem that all hope of camp reform has long gone, since murders are on the increase, and executions are diminishing.

In vain we call upon Governor Saavedra to do something to arrest crime. So far from paying any attention to our demands, the state of the camp is becoming worse and worse. In the vicinity of Lujan, the murderer of poor Davy is still at large, actually going about in the very parlour where he murdered the man. This man's claws and hairs are now hanged by the judge, but the assassin openly goes about.

In the midst of everything which the country holds dear, we implore of Governor Saavedra to set himself to work, and effect a reform in the camp. The best way to begin, would be to bring in, in irons, those justices of the peace by whose negligence or culpability these murderers have escaped.

English Literature, April 1864.

(From a London Correspondent.

"Cornhill" presents us with continuations of 'Denis Duval' and 'Margaret Denzil's Idea.' 'The Small House at Allington' is concluded. (This is published in separate form in 2 vols, with Millais' 18 illustrations.) "A Gossip on Royal Christenings," is a little historical fragment on the christening of children of Princes of Wales, and of infants born Princes of Wales. Perhaps the most startling circumstance, in reference to the Christianising of a young prince, was the making him a bishop before he was made a Christian! When the second son of George III. was born, he who was subsequently Duke of York, the Bishopric of Osnaburgh happened to be vacant. The nomination was at present in a Roman Catholic and a Protestant German State—the latter being Hanover. George III., as Rector, and influenced by Queen Charlotte, named the newly-born son, after which the boy-bishop was carried up to be christened! There were, of course, no duties, but there was £2000 a year, till his little royal reverence was 18, and £5,000 annually, which he enjoyed for the remainder of his life. Matthew Arnold contributes a paper on 'Pagan and Christian Religious Sentiment.' After a commendation of Roman Catholic literature, he gives a translation of a beautiful hymn from Theocritus, containing a religious poem, addressed to Adonis. This is shown to be easy factory to the religious requirements of the age, when life was ideal, cheerful, sensuous. In the beginning of the 13th century, when the clouds and storms had come, when the gay, sensuous, pagan life was gone, when men were not living by the senses and understanding; when they were looking for the speedy coming of auteur Christ, when Europe, from the north of Rome, in the beautiful Umbrian country, at the foot of the Appennines, a figure of the most magical power and charm, St. Francis. His century is, I think, the most interesting in the history of Christianity after its primitive age; more interesting than even the century of the Reformation [?] and one of the chief figures in perhaps the very chief, to which this interest attaches itself, is St. Francis. Matthew Arnold's paper is a most popular instinct, which enabled him more than any man since the primitive age, to fit religion for popular use and sympathy. Subject to the paper he founded the most popular body of ministers of religion that has ever existed, and which transformed Monachism by uprooting the selfish monk, thickening him from the band age of poverty to be a stranger and pilgrim, set to labour of holiness, in the crowded haunts of men, to console them and do them good. This popular interest of his is at the bottom of his fame; his marriage with poverty. Poverty and suffering are the condition of the people, the multitude, the many, and to make religion the way to them was to make it the way to the soul yearned."

"Words just left unsaid," "A Day with the Emperor's Hounds," "Book selling in the present century," "Club name Sobriety," "Child of Nature," are of varied excellence, but not so high is to produce the conviction that "Cornhill" is keeping up its literary character.

GOVERNOR SAAVEDRA'S MESSAGE.

After the Message of President Mitre's Government to the National Congress, that of the Governor of Buenos Ayres to the local Chamber is of surpassing interest. In the premier Sor Saavedra deplores the excesses attendant on the late elections, hoping they will be the last symptoms of disorder in this province.

The state of Public Instruction is represented as satisfactory, the province boasting 138 State-schools in which are educated 9,795 children of both sexes Unfortunately we cannot agree in the conclusion that this is a satisfactory return. The camp population amounts to nearly 200,000, of which one-fourth may be set down as children, so that no fewer than 40,000 boys and girls are unprovided with the first rudiments of learning, there being only two or three private schools worth the name. We must however make some allowance for the numerous Irish families each of which nevertheless keeps a governess, and in this manner at least 5,000 children receive the elements of instruction in the English tongue. The result will be, that, of the rising generation 20 per cent of Argentines and 90 per cent of Argento-Irish will be able to read, write and, calculate. During the year 1863, four new schools have been built in V. Luxan, Capilla Señor, Rojas, and the Swiss Colony: the building are in course of construction —Flores, Bulgarno, San Nicolas, Salto, Bragado, Lobos, Las Flores, 25 Mayo, Junin and Patagones: the Government has also granted funds for similar purposes in Chivilcoy, Fortin Arcco, Villa Mercedes and Ranchos. The Educational Fund in Bank amounts to 1,000,872 dols. sep. Annual sums are being constantly augmented by the quota derived from selling public lands. Notwithstanding a popular impression that our University is declining, the list of students has increased from 526 in 1863, to 733 in 1864: a University library is in formation, although hardly necessary, seeing the State Library (entrance free) is open next door; a complete battery of chemical instruments has also been ordered from Europe, for the students of Natural Philosophy. The Museum has been enlarged and remodelled under the careful supervision of Dr. Burmeister. The Faculty of Medicine has been reinforced by two new professors, and of whom is our intelligent friend Mr Charles Murray.

The department of Justice is admirably defective. The seats on the Judicial Bench left vacant by the lamented Alsina, the late Juez de Paz Dominguez jobbery, have since been filled. The prisons in the camp districts were so miserably insecure that Government had to order the necessary outlay for their improvement. The Executive suggests the convenience of appointing Market judges for the execution in the various questions arising between brokers, sheep farmers &c There is no mention whatever of the Ministerial administration of what is farcically termed Justice, throughout the camp. The Government seems to overlook the claims of property, and human life, already sufficiently protected!

The Rural Divisions are represented as requiring topographical reforms, as if it mattered ten straws whether one partido be larger than another. York in Inglaterra Rutland, and the 300 inhabitants of those counties never think of rivalry on that head. San Martin, the "milky way" among our rural constellations is said to be progressing by its separation from San Isidro. Who cares?

The annual sum of one million dollars, say, mentioned in a late number of this paper as usefully devoted to building churches and bridges, the Government proposes to devote to steamships, in other public works. At least three millions, say, ought to be laid out every year in national camp improvements, for the Constitution requires on property given over that amount, and should be entirely devoted to roads and streets.

Four new towns have been marked out; Saladillo, Tapalque, Lavalle, and Nuevo Julio, the first of which is in a flourishing state. The measurement of lands in Chivilcoy is almost complete, in accordance with the law of 1857 the sale of public lands continues, at the rates laid down by decree of 1862. All lands within the frontier are rented at a very low figure, and hence the sale of Government lands is by no means brisk. Moreover, there are few "safe routes" of private property undisposed of, and these are generally preferred by buyers. Public lands to the value of the last two years have been thus; 1863 sold 33,375 square leagues; 1863 sold 20,845 square leagues. The Western Railway being open to Villa Luxan there is a great demand for quintas and building lots in the neighbourhood, which will now be surveyed and marked out.

In the National Guard service, on the frontiers, a great improvement has been made, and soon the National Government will provide against the Indians with troops of the line, allowing the militia to return to attend to their families and occupations. Last year the civilians on frontier service were 800 in number, but they are at present 2,500. Next year this number will soon be relieved, and so end the injurious system of sending National Guards to protect the frontiers.

Governor Saavedra forcibly insists on the necessity of a New law for Elections, although we fancy it will be a poor guarantee against frauds and rioting on such occasions.

The Financial returns are really the only thing interesting and satisfactory in the Message, and show a amount of unlooked for prosperity. The Treasury of the Province has a surplus of over three millions, and the expenditure last year was one million less than the estimates, while the revenue of several departments has much exceeded what was expected therefrom; the figures stand thus:

	RECEIVED.
Subsidy (on 1st January)
National Government	$21,800,000
Revenues paid into the Treasury	17,866,633
Total	$39,666,636
	PAID.
Expenses during the year	33,825,583
Balance in Treasury	781,108
	AMOUNTS YET TO RECEIVE.
Contribution, Nat. Subsidy
1864	33,656,201
Deduct two months Public Credit	1,319,666
Balance in favor of the Province	$3,117,643

The sale of public lands realised ten millions dollars, or 21 per cent more than was expected in 4 and 6 per cent bonds. The paper money of the Bank amounts to 33½ millions, which at the rate of 28½ per silver dollar is equivalent to 11¾ millions patacons; the Government advises the redemption of same. In March 1864 there was but a balance of six million dollars paper in the Bank of that kind in circulation. This institution noted in the year nearly eight millions dols. more, of which two-thirds were in specie. On the 1st Dec. 1863 the branch bank of San Nicolas commenced operations, and on the 9th April 1864 that of Villa Mercedes.

The Message concludes with a rapid glance at the Railways open to traffic, and two under construction. The only line which will not open the entire of the Western line, which we shall review in detail hereafter.

PROSPECTUS.

The rapid development of steam navigation in long voyages, and the recent improvements in marine engines admitting of greatly increased economy of fuel, combined with the fact of its evident that ere long all the valuable trade of the world will be conveyed by screw steamships, which, while worked on a comparatively small capital, secure regularity of despatch and certainty of arrival not attainable by the fastest sailing vessels.

The Mediterranean, American and West Indian trades are now almost exclusively carried on by unsubsidised screw steamers, and the value of the established lines, such as the "Inman," "Bibby," &c., has been highly remunerative to the shareholders.

This Company has been formed to establish a line of steam communication between England, Brazil, the River Plate, and the West Coast of South America, via the Straits of Magellan.

The recent passages of the Pacific Company's boats, which in proceeding to their stations in the Pacific, have performed the voyage in thirty-five to forty days, from Liverpool to Valparaiso, and the transit of Malden, Vostock, and Montevideo, prove the feasibility of this route.

The vast extent of trade with the countries with which this Company proposes to open communication, may be seen from the following statement—

The exports of British manufactures to Brazil, River Plate, Chili, and Peru, in 1863, amounted value to £8,291,150

The imports from the West Coast, consisting of bar copper, silver ore, nitrate, wheat, wool, cotton, &c., employ over 200,000 tons of shipping annually

From Chili the annual exports of bar copper are about ... ... 15,000 tons

From Chili the annual exports of regulus are about 25,000 tons

From Chili the annual exports of copper ore are about ... ... 50,000 tons

The annual exportation of produce from Chili alone is valued at upwards of £2,000,000.

It will thus be seen that a large and profitable field exists (as yet unprovided with steam for commercial purposes), for the establishment of a line of screw steamers of power sufficient to insure certainty of quick passages, and of capacity to take large cargoes, inducing at the same time an accommodation for a yearly increasing passenger traffic to Brazil and the West coast.

The Company will commence operations with six screw steam-ships of 2,000 tons and 300 horse-power each (having capacity for 2,000 tons cargo, 36 day's fuel, and accommodation for 60 to 70 first and a smaller number of second-class passengers), leaving Liverpool and Falmouth once a month, calling at Lisbon, Rio Janeiro, and Bahia Vista (taking goods and packages for Buenos Ayres), thence proceeding via Straits of Magellan to Valparaiso and Lima.

Arrangements will be made to take cargo to and from Africa, Islay and other parts on the west coast.

The vessels are guaranteed to steam 13 knots, and being fully rigged as ships, sailing ships are calculated to perform the voyage regularly in, say,

Falm..uth to Rio Janeiro (calling at Bahia) ... ... 35 days
Do. Monte Video ... 31 "
Do. Valparaiso ... 60 "
Do. Lima ... 60 "

The average passage of sailing ships to the West Coast being over 90 days.

The Chilian Government has long wished to see such a line established, and some years ago offered a subsidy for that purpose; it is hoped, that, at the least, liberal concessions will be obtained, not only from the Chilian, but also from the Peruvian, Argentine and Brazil Governments, which will tend to facilitate the operation, of the Company.

The expense of working such a line has been carefully gone into, and every confidence is felt in recommending this scheme as possessing abundant equal if not superior, to any mercantile steam line from England.

The Pacific Company, though only connected indirectly (via Panama) with England, commenced in 1840 with four small steamers, have now a fleet of seventeen vessels of great power (by very large ordinary dividends, and their shares, which originally were £20 each, are now quoted at £84), whilst no trade have sailing ships left more profitable results than in that of the West Coast.

The services of a firm well acquainted with the trade, and the management of screw steamers, have been secured on satisfactory terms, and the business of the Company will be conducted on the most economical scale consistent with efficiency.

No promotion money will be paid for originating this Company, but the preliminary expenses will be confined to necessary disbursements only.

THE PERUVIAN SQUADRON.

As people take an interest in Peruvian matters, we extract from the 'Tribuna' the following interesting details respecting the Peruvian navy:

One line-of-battle ship	32	guns
Two steamers	19	"
Onebrig	12	"
One "	4	"
Three pontoons	0	"
Two transports	4	"
Total, 18 vessels with 75 guns.

Of the ten steamers, there are one which carries ten guns, another nine, one has four and the rest three guns each

In the Peruvian navy there is one Rear Admiral, two Post Captains, three Captains, 31 Midshipmen and officers. Crew, 1070 sailors, 400 marines, and 336 Artillery.

The Garibaldi fever is still at a high heat, but as yet none has arrived that will soon bring on the "coal." Last Saturday when a vast crowd of Lords and titled Ladies and their spies congregated at the Crystal Palace to do honour to the hero of Agenomonte, swords were presented to him and his sons. Garibaldi in his excitation declared that he would carry his sword to Rome and Venetia. That was the first touch of the filibuster which he followed himself to exhibit since his arrival in England. The words were not lost, and they have produced an effect which neither the nor his noble and ignoble flatterers had contemplated. The day week that nuance to France and Austria and Prussia was uttered amid the cheers of thousands, conspicuous among whom were the two Duchesses of Sutherland, and the Dowager Duchesses's sons and daughters, the Earl of Shaftesbury, (Lord Palmerston's son in law), and sundry Grosvenors, Argyles, Hamtyres, &c. To-day, where are the author of the threat and the sword? The suddenness of his departure from England has created some sensation. It is now well known that the man himself had no notion of returning immediately to Caprera. On the contrary, he had made arrangements for a triumphal tour through England and Scotland. Sed Deu aliter visum.—London Register.

ONE MORE UNFORTUNATE.—We have a few details of the destruction, by a squall, of the great rebel ram at Mobile, of which we have so often heard during the last two years. It is said that she was an extremely powerful concern, her iron plating being six inches in thickness, and her armament consisting of six 100 pounder rifled Parrott guns, while her submarine horn or spear was of immense size and sharpness. The casualty adds another to the long list of defunct and unfortunate rebel rams, with whose loans Jeff Davis hoped to split the Union.

The state of the Money Market is extremely unsatisfactory. Specie keeps steadily rising. Paper money falling. Imports increasing, and exports diminishing. Our exchange market, instead of being ruled by the amount of money to be remitted and cargoes shipped, has been converted into a sort of speculation ring; people now a days draw not for the purpose of making use of available funds in Europe, still less with the object of raising the wind' here, but they draw for the sole purpose of making a sham of business, and persuading the people at home of the magnitude of their connections abroad. To such an extreme has this business been carried, that the exchange brokers, immediately before the sailing of the packet, are obliged to get horses, and scour all parts around the city to see and dispose of £20,000 to £30,000 worth of bills of exchange. Scarcely a packet, during the last 18 months, that there have not been drafts lying over. Although we like to see all our friends doing a brisk business, still it is right to remark that this system of drawing against one's credit, and taking bills at the same rate, to enable friends at home to meet the draft, is not only needless, but is injurious to our money market, inasmuch as it gives a surreptitious demand for money, which merchants are unprepared for, basing their calculations upon the imports and exports of the country.

M. Sarasin, of Montevideo, has failed for the trifle of £101,000: we have not heard what the assets will amount to. The bankrupt had three or four houses of consignment in this city. Some idea of the immense business this firm did in the River Plate, can be formed from the fact, that the amount of goods consigned from Montevideo to Buenos Ayres, last year, exceeded 25 millions in currency. We are glad to hear that the losses are almost exclusively Parisian.

SAVINGS BANK
BANK MAUA & C°
No. 103 calle de Cangallo.

BUENOS-AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts current are now so generally felt, and appreciated in the 6-0 great emporiums of the River Plate—Schools of Buenos Ayres—that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the Bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city, a safe & profitable depository for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, working-men & servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities

The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city following the example of their firm in Montevideo now offer the same facilities in this city and will open on the 1st October a "Savings Bank" at No. 103 calle Cangallo from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on week days, and on Sundays and holidays from 10 a. m. to 12 m. for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a Pass Book in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited, in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date,

The Bank of Mauá and Co. is sufficiently known to the public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

Buenos Ayres September 15th 1865.

p. p. Mauá & Co.
WILLIAM LESLIE.

CONDITIONS.

1st, The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty five dollars currency or one silver dollar upwards.

2nd. The interest allowed is six per cent [6 p$] per annum which is liquidated every six months.

3rd. The depositor can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

4th. Once the amount deposited exceeds Twenty five thousand dollars currency or one thousand dollars silver the depositor if he wishes can open an account current according to the rules established by the Bank.

5th. In case the depositor loses his Pass Book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.
